

The first week of May the RUNOHIO site and another site of The Running Network publication both crashed. My web guy, Chuck Barlett had everything backed up, but when he went to fix the first problem his back up was destroyed... For the past month we have been working to get the new RUNOHIO site up to date. This past weekend another problem arose and we are now staring over for the second time in less than a month. Hopefully, this will not be a problem again.

Please check back often to see our progress with our new web site – www.runohio.com

Good luck with your summer training and racing.
